Former Rate of 40 Cents Per Hour Will Be Increased—State Makes Monthly Wage 10 Cents Per Hour.

The CWA employees working on highway jobs will receive 50 cents per hour for laborers as was first announced by the federal authorities. This fact was disclosed Tuesday evening by Mr. Clark the field representative of the CWA in charge of this district. He said that there had been some discussion of this matter and it was stated that the rate would be 49 cents per hour because this was the rate which the state was paying for labor on highway projects. However, he said the federal schedule had been announced as 50 cents and that was the rate which would be paid in the various towns throughout the county. The state he said had raised the rate to 50 cents per hour.

Mr. Clark was invited to speak briefly to the board of supervisors prior to the opening of the evening's business. He said that there were now over 1,000 men at work in the county and the quota had been placed at 1,500 but he did not know if that was the final quota or not. The job of getting the men to work had been a hard one to complete but he said the county was working in a most commendable manner and the result had been far in excess of expectations.

Men to work on the CWA projects in the county, he said, would be taken from those registered by the National Reemployment Service which was functioning here. The organization was functioning well in the county and all men for CWA work would be supplied through the employment service in the future. A call for a certain number of men for a project would be issued by the CWA and the men would be supplied by the employment branch.

Friday would be the first pay roll under the CWA program. Checks he said were here and would be made out immediately so that the men could get them by the end of the week.

GIVES CHRISTMAS TREE TO TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

As has been his custom for so many years, John G. Garbarino of the Garbarino fruit store on Broadway, has given a beautiful Christmas tree to the Tuberculosis Hospital for the Christmas entertainment and festival there. Gifts of money and articles are coming in steadily to Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, but it would be very helpful in the purchasing of articles, if money gifts could be sent to her as soon as convenient.

Ambassador Is Received.

Moscow, Dec. 13 (AP)—A cordial exchange of official greetings took place today between United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt and Mikhail Kalinin, president of Soviet Russia. They met for the first time in the old "winter palace" of the Kremlin, executive offices of the U. S. S. R., when Bullitt presented his credentials. Ambassador Bullitt said he found Kalinin a "delightful human being."

CWA Until Spring

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt will continue the Civil Works Administration until next spring, but in his study of the budget he has not reached a decision on the extent of public works to be proposed for next year.

Nine Men Killed In A Rock Slide

Tragedy Attributed To Blasting On The Opposite Side of Canyon—Were Working On Federal Civil Works Project.

Grand Junction, Colo., Dec. 13 (AP)—Nine men, members of a crew working the second day on a federal civil works project, died yesterday in a rock slide.

There were reports two more were swept 300 feet down the face of a cliff in the Colorado national monument, northwest of here, and a search was resumed today.

T. W. Secord, U. S. Park Service engineer, attributed the tragedy to blasting on the opposite side of the canyon. The blasting apparently loosened the 50-foot sandstone cliff towering over the road on which the men were working. Earlier blasting to loosen rocks farther above also weakened the cliff.

Fifty jobs were given emergency employment Monday but only 25 members of the crew were in the vicinity of the avalanche.

Supervisors' Salaries Remain The Same, Bridges Authorized

Assistant Clerk to Board of Elections Gets $60 Increase—Tax Sale Clerk Will Receive $2,400 Per Year—Appropriate $2,500 for New Bridge at Denning—Napanoch Bridge Will Cost $35,725. Contract Awarded—Other Appropriations.

The committee on salaries reported Tuesday night to the boards of supervisors and the schedule of salaries as in effect during the past year was again adopted with but two changes. The assistant clerk to the board of elections received a $60 increase and the office of tax sale clerk in the office of the county treasurer was created at an annual salary of $2,400. This position has existed since the work of preparing the tax sale has been done in the county treasurer's office but the clerk was paid a monthly wage of $200 from the money on hand without the formality of creating the office as has now been done. For years the tax sale work was done by the state until recently when the work was delegated by legislation to the county treasurer of the county and since that time an extra clerk has been necessary in the treasurer's office. This position is now held by Dwight McEntee.

Following is the schedule of pay for the various county officers as adopted by the board:

Under-Sheriff	2,400.00

Farm and Home Bureaus and 4-H Club Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association was held in Epworth Hall, Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, Tuesday evening. Although there has been a larger attendance at some of the former gatherings, notably in 1931, when 430 were present at the Golden Rule Inn, the banquet Tuesday evening was an outstanding event in every feature.

The ladies of the church, as customary, had charge of the service of the turkey dinner, which followed the invocation by the Rev. Mr. Polhemus. The dinner was served without stint and in variety of menu and preparation left nothing to be desired.

President Millard Davis of the Association was in charge of the evening's activities and was in top notch form, which is good enough for anybody. The music and singing under direction of Paul Zucca, with "Happy" Eppes, the famous Dalrymple's League leader and conductor, taking charge of several rousing choruses, was greatly enjoyed and all participated heartily in the songs. The program was varied and interesting, well carried out and by general consent was awarded first place among those that have been given at these annual gatherings.

It was about eight o'clock when the tables were cleared and Mr. Davis took charge of the program, speaking a few words of welcome and then, assisted by Mr. Zucca, leading the company in singing, "Good Bye, My Love, Good Bye." The former assemblyman has won enviable renown for his ability to bring out the deeper sentiment in these old songs, arousing the tender emotions of his audience and putting them into a sympathetic frame of mind that is a great aid to those who follow him on the program.

At the conclusion of the singing, on motion of Mr. Davis, all arose and extended a sincere and unanimous vote of greeting to their good friend, John H. Beatty, who has been confined to his home for some weeks by illness. In lighter vein, they also carried with applause a motion congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBois on the very recent arrival of twins in their family—an illustration, said Mr. Davis, of the way the New Deal is working.

The first number of the program was a fine rendition of "Steal Away to Jesus," by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hooker and Ralph Gorney, three of the four members of the Lake Katrine Grange quartet that won the Litchman county Grange singing contest. The fourth member, Mrs. Litchman, was unable to be present because of illness. The singing was received with the applause that its excellence deserved and the trio responded with an encore, "Long, Long Ago."

Junior League Will Repeat Side-Splitting Comedy Upon Request

Twitville Chorus so Famous Last Year That It Will Repeat With Stirring Renditions for Revue December 20—Plan Varied Revue Program.

The telephone has been constantly ringing at the American Legion building where rehearsals are under way 12 hours a day for the Junior League Revue and many of the calls are an unusual request. It is a demand for the repetition of one of the numbers in last year's show, the scene known as The Twitville Choral Society. All who saw it know what side-splitting comedy it was, and many who did not but who have heard about the authentic costumes and the perfect playing of chorus and soloists wish to have the opportunity this year, so the League has yielded to the requests and is again presenting the famous singing society with the following members:

The Conductor—Robert Hawksley. The Organist—Walter Kidd. The Soprano—Mrs. Esther Feasenden. The Tenor—Clyde Wonderly. The Baritone—Leonard Sime. The Choir—Margaret Searle, Ruth Morris, Eva Clinton, Phyllis Eastman, Mrs. G. V. D. William Fuller, H. Tremper, Jr., Mrs. William Fuller, Gertrude Brinnier, Burton Davis, Henry Osterhoudt, Henry Brigham, Walter Tremper, Charles Arnold, Donald Washburn, John Davis, Donald Morris, George Howe, Alice Trowbridge.

As well as the many gorgeous musical numbers, there will be a variety of well played skits with much unexpected and amusing turns at their conclusion. Such scenes as "Then, Now, When," which is mothers and their daughters of 1892, 1922 and 1933 played by Mrs. Allan Hansteln, Mrs. J. H. Tremper, Jr., Mrs. Esther Feasenden, Gertrude Brinnier, Mrs. H. L. Bibby and Isabel Brigham.

"In a Doctor's Office" with Mrs. Esther Feasenden, G. V. D. Hutton and J. H. Tremper, Jr., and "The King of the Hill" featuring Isabel Brigham, George Howe and Charles Arnold, are sure to bring down the house.

Clothing Workers' Meeting. Shirt and pajama workers are invited to attend the meeting called by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Byrne Brothers Building, 625 Broadway. This will be the last meeting of the union this month. Meetings and entertainments will be resumed after the holidays.

Mayor Is Playing Picayune Politics Says Heiselman

Presiding Officer Of Common Council In Interview Declares Mayor Carey Has Shown "Vulgar Opposition" To CWA—Quotes Latest State Law.

Mayor Eugene B. Carey's veto of the resolution adopted by the common council at its last meeting expressing approval of the projects of the local Civil Works Administration and that the council obligate itself to make necessary appropriations covering material and other costs the city may be called upon to pay in order to carry out the projects, as illegal, came in for a scorching answer from Conrad J. Heiselman, presiding officer of the common council, who in an interview this morning said:

"Mayor Carey's verbose message, purporting to veto the resolution of the Common Council expressing its approval of the projects of the Civil Works Administration officials and pledging the council to enact appropriate legislation if and when it might be determined that the city would be obliged to furnish the materials required, or a part thereof, makes reference to his hasty determination of the right of the Common Council, communicated to me at the meeting, that the acts of the council were illegal.

The mayor claims that the resolution is illegal because the law requires a two-thirds vote to make an appropriation. This is not true. No bond issue was authorized.

Even if the council had authorized a bond issue, which it did not, it could have done so with a majority vote. Evidently the mayor has not heard of section 5, chapter 782, of the laws of 1933, which, among other things, provides as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of any general, special or local law, any municipality by majority vote of its governing board, or public body, empowered by law to borrow money for a public works project is hereby authorized to sell its bonds or other obligations to the federal emergency administrator of public works, or such other federal agency as may be authorized to act in this respect, no bond issue was involved. The common council did not appropriate any money whatsoever to the CWA. The local CWA could not commence work without the approval of the common council. The common council was asked, in order to get the work started, to express its approval of the CWA program. It had a right to express such approval. It did legally express such approval.

Insofar as its acts might be claimed to transgress the authority of the Board of Public Works, the approval of that board would be forthcoming beyond question. If it were not for the vetoed opposition of the mayor who has heretofore and continues to dominate the board, how could the board reasonably object to the local CWA doing such an important work with no labor cost to the city?

The Board of Education and the Fire Board did request and approve the work being done for them.

The CWA are representatives of the Federal government. Before they would proceed to do the work on city property they asked for formal approval of the Common Council.

As a matter of temperament the present mayor cannot miss the opportunity to obtain all publicity possible in displaying his continued methods of an obstructionist.

The Federal government has approved the projects and will pay for all labor costs with the possibility of all or part of the material costs. We have many men who are desperately in need of work. By next Monday 1,200 men should be at work.

Shall the local CWA go forward without obstruction by picayune methods of a local official whose term of office is measured by days?

Swift Kansas Justice Puts Wisdom in for Life After 20-Minute Trial

Killings Swift Flare of Anger Matched By Court—Confessed to Murder of Wichita Man and Wife—Thousand Joined Search For Bodies.

Lansing, Kas., Dec. 13 (AP)—Jack Wisdom, slayer of two men and a woman in outbursts of anger, was convicted 3964 in the state penitentiary here today, his swift flare of temper matched by the swiftness of Kansas justice.

The 26-year-old cowboy was arrested Sunday near Jay, Okla., after thousands of persons had joined in a search for the bodies of two of his victims, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard of Wichita, Kas. Late yesterday he was rushed from the state reformatory at Hutchinson, where he had been taken for safekeeping, to Wichita, where he pleaded guilty to the murder of Pritchard, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The proceedings required only 20 minutes, and in a few more minutes he was enroute to Lansing.

The continued cold weather has frozen the water in the ponds and small lakes in this vicinity and there is excellent skating. The ice on the Rondout creek or the river, however, is not of sufficient thickness to warrant skating.

Senator Wicks Asks Investigation Into CWA Methods in City

Requests Study Be Made of Charges That Political Discrimination Is Made When Men Are Chosen For Relief Jobs.

In a letter to Harry L. Hopkins, national CWA administrator, Washington, D. C., dated December 12, Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, representing the 29th district in the state legislature, has asked that an investigation be made concerning favoritism allegedly shown at the Kingston National Employment Agency in furnishing men to work on CWA projects.

The senator's letter follows:

The Senate of the State of New York Albany

Arthur H. Wicks 29th District 243 Clinton Avenue Kingston, New York December 12, 1933

Mr. Harry L. Hopkins, National CWA Administrator, Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Hopkins:

So many complaints have come to me regarding favoritism being shown at the Kingston National Employment Agency for the CWA that I am writing you, asking for an immediate investigation so that justice might be done to hundreds of unemployed who are worthy and have been registered for a long period of time, but have had no consideration.

I am informed, by good authority, that veterans are being discriminated against because of their political affiliations. Men who have registered for two or three months have failed to get a card for employment, while some registering as late as three and four days have been put to work immediately.

Knowing your work when you were New York State Administrator, under the Wicks' Bill, I feel sure that you cannot and would not sanction the distribution of jobs on a basis of favoritism or political affiliation, and I am asking again in the name of humanity and for the hundreds of unemployed who cannot speak for themselves, that an investigation be made immediately.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) ARTHUR H. WICKS

Mayor Carey's Veto Message To Council On CWA Resolution

Mayor Carey Will Hold Special Meeting of Aldermen Friday Evening to Clear Up Points He Questioned—CWA Projects to Continue Meanwhile.

The following communications have been issued by Mayor Carey concerning his veto of the resolution adopted by the common council on CWA projects:

December 12, 1933.

Hon. William C. DeWitt, City Clerk, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Mr. DeWitt:

I hand you herewith communication in reference to the resolution of the Common Council wherein is concerned the Civil Works program. The resolution and requests therein contained are vetoed by me. Not wishing to be misconstrued in the matter, I advise that I have taken such action for the benefit of the members of the Common Council and all concerned. In order to give the Aldermen who introduced and seconded the resolution, an opportunity to present a resolution that cannot be questioned, I direct you to call a special meeting of the Common Council for such purpose on Friday evening, December 15, 1933, at 8 o'clock. In the interim Civil Works projects should continue.

Very truly yours,

EUGENE B. CAREY, Mayor.

December 12, 1933

To The Honorable, The Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

There was transmitted to me on the eighth day of December, 1933, by the City Clerk the following resolution from your Honorable Body:

"Resolved, That the report of the Civil Works Commissioners be approved, that the projects therein mentioned be approved, that permission be given to the Civil Works Commissioners to use the streets, sewers, public buildings and such other property as may be necessary in the execution of their work, and that the Common Council go on record as obligating itself to make the necessary appropriations covering material and other costs the City may be called upon to pay in order to carry out the projects approved."

Attached to the resolution was a communication to the Common Council, under date of December 5, 1933, from the Local Civil Works administration.

I am informed that the resolution was passed by the Common Council by a bare majority vote, to wit, seven in favor, six opposed. I am informed that the resolution was not referred to the Finance, Ways and Means Committee nor the Laws and Rules Committee for consideration.

I did not see the resolution in question prior to the meeting of the Council. I gained knowledge thereof while it was being read by City Clerk DeWitt. I asked to see the resolution after the clerk finished reading. Before a vote of the Council was taken thereon I advised the presiding officer that, on first thought, it was illegal. Nevertheless, he permitted the resolution to remain before the Council and ordered a vote taken thereon.

After careful study and reading of the resolution it appears to be one that was very hastily put together by someone supposedly unaware of municipal law, of the Common Council rules, of our City Charter and of the duties, purposes and jurisdictions of local organized legal authority, such as is defined and set up in existing bodies, and one that shows little regard to the vast sum of approximately $44,701.01 of public money therein involved and to be expended within a period of seventy days.

Now, therefore, I find and so report to your Honorable Body.

That,

The resolution is one wherein an appropriation of money is required and asked for. According to law a two-thirds vote of the Common Council is required for the passage thereof, which is a greater number of votes than the majority vote which the resolution received.

That,

For the resolution to be properly before the Common Council it should have been referred to the Finance, Ways and Means Committee, as provided for in Rule XI of the Book of Rules of the Common Council, which provides—"Every resolution requiring the expenditure of money shall be referred to the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means to report."

First Post Graduate Medical Lecture Here

The first of a series of medical lectures to be given in this city was held at the Benedictine Hospital Tuesday evening. The reception hall at the nurses' home was well filled by the leading physicians of Kingston and Ulster county besides physicians from Albany and Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Mark O'Meara called the meeting to order and introduced Dr. Ordway, dean of the Albany Medical College, through whose kind interest these lectures were made available to the different hospitals. He said, "that Dr. Ordway was a physician who believed not only in the highest ideals of medical practice, but also in the highest ideals of medical education."

Dr. Ordway replied that it was through Dr. Shaw that they were able to secure Dr. Schroeder and he would ask him to introduce the speaker.

Dr. H. L. K. Shaw in a few well chosen words then introduced Dr. Schroeder of New York, associate professor of pediatrics at the Cornell Medical School and president of the Eastern Society of Pediatricians.

Dr. Schroeder after a few remarks called for the babies to be examined, whereupon Dr. Harold Van Norstrand asked the nurse to bring in the first case. Dr. Schroeder then lectured and examined this case, giving all an opportunity to see just how the most expert examinations are made and the conclusions to be arrived at, from the points brought out in the examination.

Dr. Van Norstrand then had a second baby brought in, which was gone over in exactly the same way. After which Dr. Crowley had the nurse bring in a baby from his practice, and this one was examined and discussed as the others had been.

Dr. O'Meara, Dr. Bibby and Dr. Weiss of Ellenville presented histories of patients for Dr. Schroeder's advice and counsel, as to the cause of trouble and future management of the patient.

The physicians were free to ask any questions and many did so. All agreed that it was a most instructive and illuminating medical meeting, and a rising vote of thanks was most heartily given.

It is the plan to have these post graduate medical lectures alternate between the hospitals of the city.

Professor Suggests Sale of Weak Liquor As Deterrent to Drunks

Yale Official Would Make 50 or 60
Liquor on a Quart of Whiskey Sold by Package and Restaurant Bartender Excluded.

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—A new experiment in the control of liquor, permitting the sale of full strength whiskey only in package but of diluted liquor by the drink in restaurants and clubs, was recommended to congress today by Professor Yandell Henderson, of Yale University.

Testifying in the joint congressional hearings on liquor taxation, Henderson suggested a law on whiskey high enough to make it sell for $2 or $4 a quart, but a lower rate on diluted liquor so that it could be sold by the drink for 10 or 15 cents. "I know that an effort will be made by other speakers to persuade you to propose to congress low taxes on strong liquor," Henderson said. "That might almost the speaker, but it would restore the saloon and promote drunkenness."

"Proof spirits of all varieties should be taxed so high, perhaps $4 a gallon, that a quart bottle at retail will cost $3 or $4. But that is not all."

"I fully agree that unless a reasonable drink of whiskey can be bought in restaurants and clubs for a moderate price, say 10 or 15 cents, men who want a drink of whiskey will continue to go to the speakeasy."

"The Goose Hangs High"

Origin of the expression, "the goose hangs high" is obscure and many etymologists believe that it is taken from "the goose hangs high," referring to the hanging of wild geese in flight, especially in good weather. A popular opinion is that it originated from the final contest of riding tournaments (still held in some sections of the country) wherein a tough old gander whose neck had been picked clean of feathers and greased, was hung up and each knight would attempt to pull the gander down while riding at full speed. The knight was just as likely to be pulled from his horse as to succeed in securing the gander. This was called "gander pulling" and the signal for the charge was the cry "the goose hangs high."

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUENTON JAMES.

A set of six small stamps for French Guiana, the first to be catalogued, comprises the latest addition for collectors of world issues.

Having said so much for the different values, the best design is a scene of the town of Cayenne with

A postage stamp, displayed at the top. The value is from 50 centimes to 20 francs, the complete set consisting of eight stamps.

The Dominator Republic also has a set of small stamps to feature. It is a set of six stamps, the first of which is a scene of the town of Cayenne with stamps from Guiana.

Another group of colonial stamps also has come to attention, the issue being that of Guiana, a Portuguese possession. The 15 adhesives are from one centavo to 20 escudos, with Ceres, goddess of corn and harvest, the only figure thereon. Each stamp is identical except for value and color variations.

Seek Collector "King."

Now that the Hind collection is in the process of breaking up, collectors in general have been puzzling over the question as to the country's outstanding collector or collection.

Some give this honor to A. H. Canham, of New York, one of the buyers at the Hind sale of U. S. issues. Those who know say his collection contains a fine group of stamps both on and off covers, with numerous rarities. But there also are other outstanding collectors.

In the hope that a new collecting "king" will be disclosed, a national exhibition of stamps is to be held in New York city from February 10 to 15, the first since the international exposition there in 1925. One section of the show, open only to collectors who have won first prizes in previous displays, it is believed, may reveal the new "king."

Speaking of stamp shows, the Association of Stamp Expositions has decided to hold another international exhibit in New York in 1936.

Plans also were put into the formative stage for another New York exposition in 1947, the one-hundredth anniversary of the first United States issue of government postage stamps.

Stamp Club To Meet.

There will be a very important meeting of the Colonial City Stamp Club Monday evening, December 18 at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Harry Rigby, 58 Fair street. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Talks to parents

Constructive Attitude Best
By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Many parents who permit their children to attend the movies indiscriminately and to choose are apt to feel that because there is nothing shocking or bad in a certain picture the child may as well be allowed to go.

It is a negative, not a constructive attitude. There are hundreds of harmless pictures of this kind shown everywhere all the time, and while there is no valid reason for the child's seeing them, except the one that he wants to, there are several excellent ones why he should not.

For one thing, if he goes in the afternoon he loses time out of school, although, of course, in bad weather this reason does not hold. Pictures are, furthermore, undoubtedly a strain on the eyes, and while in moderation they will do no great harm, it would be better if, for the sake of his eyesight, the strain were applied only for pictures really worth while.

It is a fact that the nerve stimulation of the motion picture, however innocuous it may be, sometimes affects the sleep of children. Some suffer from insomnia, some from nightmares, some simply sleep more lightly.

There are simply facts of health, but are certainly worthy of consideration when the question of too frequent moving pictures arises, as it is likely to in any household. It seems so much easier to give the desired permission than to withhold it, and the continuous struggle wears down the parents' resistance.

There are pictures which no child should miss and to see which exceptions to rules of hygiene may well be made. But the forming of the too persistent movie habit, which some mothers are unconsciously allowing by a non-constructive attitude, is good for neither the child's health nor taste.

Santa's Answer

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
The next morning Willy Nilly found a letter waiting for him from Santa Claus. This was what it said:
"Dear Willy Nilly: It would indeed be a great help to me if you and your animal friends came to my work shop."

"I'll meet you just where you say tomorrow evening. I am looking forward to seeing all of you."

"Your affectionate friend,"

"Santa Claus."

Willy Nilly jumped up and down with joy. His animal friends had never seen the little man happier.

"He says we may go," Santa Claus is expecting us. He is going to meet us!" Willy Nilly shouted.

"Now we must get out the automobile Two-Ways as soon as we're closed up everything here, for we'll be away quite a little while."

Top Notch went around crowing: "We're going to visit Santa Claus!"

Christopher Columbus Crow cawed:

"I'll be the only Crow to discover where Santa Claus lives."

The Ducks and Chickens quacked and shouted: "All aboard for Santa's work shop. Quack, quack, quack, cheers, cheers, cheers."

Rip, the Dog, wagged his tail and jumped around barking and shouting—making believe he was Santa:

"Good dog, Rip!"

Willy Nilly was busy locking windows, and now he was setting warm shoes and sweaters and carrying them out to his automobile Two-Ways.

They were all ready to start!

New Paltz Normal School Activities

The Senior Class now heads the subscription drive for the Cabin fund. The Freshman Class was at first far in the lead. The Juniors are now in second place, and the freshmen last. Peter Joy heads the Seniors, Don Mcagher the Juniors and Jack Lahey the Freshman. The drive will be on over the Christmas holidays.

About 50 attended the meeting of the Intermediate Club Thursday afternoon, held in the music room of the training school.

The theme of the Christmas Paltzette is "The Chimney Corner." This monthly paper will be issued on Friday. Harriet Smellie, Charlotte Tamney and Lief Lang will present many novel things.

A student government has been planned by the students of Junior High School. Leaders have been chosen from each group. They will take care of school affairs with the aid of the student teachers.

The Misses Lapp, Hines, Sposato and Morriarty of the Artemis Sorority House spent part of their recent vacation in New York.

Irene Redmond of the Arethusa saw the Notre Dame game, tea-danced to Don Bestor's Orchestra at the Baltimore, and dined and danced at the Essex House.

Marge Warner and "Teddy" Kahler, also of Arethusa, cheered for Yale-Princeton. Miss Warner went to Hollis and Miss Kahler to an inter-fraternity inter-sorority dance.

Louise Dickinson paid a brief visit to a friend at Alfred.

Florence Jones accompanied Mary Shaw to Hoosic.

Edythe Moore spent her holiday in Boston and Marion Raynor in Vermont. Gladys Leonard of the Clifton also enjoyed an old-fashioned vacation in Vermont.

The Misses Betty Hardy, Frances Helne, Eleanor Stewart and Mary

Cross enjoyed a vacation in Westchester county recently.

The Long Island Club meets on the last Thursday of each month. All students at the Normal who live anywhere on Long Island may become members. The club has recently enjoyed two very enjoyable supper-dinners. Professor A. Bruce Bennett is the club advisor. On Thursday, December 21, the New Paltz basketball team will play Braden Hall here with a J. V. preliminary. A penmanship club has been started by the seventh grade of Junior High School. It will be called "Ye Scribers Corner." Dorothy Ashton will be president; it is for the purpose of improving the writing of the pupils.

A play "The First Thanksgiving" was recently given by part of the fifth grade before the remainder of the grade. Those taking part were: Gladys Davis, Louise Sutherland, Raymond Miller, Wesley Stokes, Ciro and Kathryn Sinara and Margaret Thoben.

Various grades are practicing for their Christmas program. Band rehearsal will be on Wednesday and orchestra on Thursday at the Normal this week.

Meetings of the Paltzette staff and Outing Club council will meet today at the usual time, and the Sigma Pi Sigma will meet on Thursday at 3:30 o'clock.

The Freshman Forum held their regular meeting on Monday morning, December 11, with Professor Benjamin Matteson as speaker.

Doors Class Meeting. The regular meeting of the Doors Class of Trinity M. E. Sunday School will be held in the church parlors Friday, December 15. Supper will be served at 5:20 sharp, followed by the annual Christmas tree party. Election of officers will be held.

Palace Has 14 Homes. Fourteen private residences are included in the palace of Westminster, as the houses of parliament are officially called in England.

HOW

SHOW AND SPEED HORSES TRAVEL ABOUT COUNTRY.—Valuable show horses and record travel in style. The Fabre horse-car, now in general use, is so different from the ordinary stock car as a palatial drawing room is from a day coach, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune.

Each Fabre car has from 16 to 22 stalls, carefully padded so that the equine passenger cannot possibly suffer injury or discomfort.

For a short run sufficient feed and water are loaded with the car, but on long trips the necessary provisions are ordered for stops along the route. The attendants ride in the car with the horses and, while they are permitted to sleep in the caboose most of them prefer to stay right by their charges. At specified stops along the way the horses are taken off the car and carefully exercised, so that when they reach their destination they are in as fine shape as any humans traveling in up-to-date sleepers. In fact, no horse has ever been known to complain of "being unable to sleep a wink on the train last night."

How Country's Progress

Reduced Buffalo Herds

The buffalo herds of our plains were too vast ever to diminish—from about 100,000 to 10,000—without the aid of a mathematical impossibility for the number of hunters and rifles in the United States. You will have to look to other factors, says a writer in Collier's Weekly.

There is a glow in the very period during which the buffalo disappeared; the two generations after the Civil war were those of our greatest industrial booming and commercial expansion; our widest peaceable territorial conquest. It was not the rifle, but the plow that caused most casualties in the buffalo ranks.

He was killed off by the surgeon's axes and chains; by the railroad builder's spikes and platebolts, wrenches and sledges. He—and the antelope and elk and other big game of the West that, like the bison, were creatures of the free and open ranges—was killed off by the stockman's fence.

The most rabid conservationist cannot point to any stage of the hunting of the buffalo and say: "Here is where it all began." The sensible appraiser, looking backward, sees the death knell of the buffalo in the completion of the first transcontinental railroad. This was a great steel knife stabbed through the heart of the buffalo herds.

How "Flu" Gains Look

Many of us, alas, have had the flu, but how many have seen it? The bacilli of influenza, with their most recently discovered allies, the streptococci and the pneumococci, present appearances very much resembling a lot of different alphabets all jumbled together—you might call it "alphabet soup." There are specimens of Greek and Roman letters—plenty of them. Also many Hebrew and even some designs that suggest the hieroglyphics of Egypt or the picture-graphs of China. Minute reproductions of the letters, in a Greek and is abound in this mess of "alphabet soup." Frequent also are strange units which look like an irregular y—the letter which that ancient grammarian, named Syrus, claimed was supposed to represent the sound a calf makes when it is taken away from its mother. Maybe that's the sound which the flu victim tries to imitate when he wheezes and sneezes. —Pathfinder Magazine.

How President Gets Action

Article V of the Constitution provides legal means of amending the Constitution. Section 3, article 2, states: "He (the President) shall from time to time give congress information on the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he may judge necessary and expedient." The President therefore not only has the legal right, but is duty bound to recommend amendments to the Constitution if he considers such measures "necessary and expedient."

How Horribly Makes Speed

According to three French scientists, if man could construct a flying machine with flapping wings of the same coefficient energy as that of a horse, over 220 pounds of weight could be propelled rapidly through the air by the horse power of expended energy. They assert the suspension of a horse in the air and his propulsion through space are maintained by a very slight expenditure of energy, equal to 2.2 kilogram-meters per second and per kilogram of animal matter.

How British Officers Dressed

The uniform of officers of the British army in the Revolutionary war was similar to that of the men, except that they wore sashes of considerable length and breadth which might be used as stretchers to carry them from the field if wounded. In addition, they wore hung about the neck in front a gorget—that is, a small plate, often of gold, bearing the regimental device. The coat was scarlet, waistcoat and breeches white.

How Spoons Begun

The first weapon of primitive man was a club. Gradually he learned to throw it after an animal he was pursuing and then to sharpen and point the end of it. Eventually this grew longer, thinner and more pointed until it became a spear.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Audience, the actress, who started all the screen chatter some six years ago, has started work on the picture in which he will realize his real movie ambition.

"I want to be an entertainer, not an actor," he says. He has said that before, but in "Wonder Bar," his stage success, this often-expressed wish will be followed faithfully.

That may be why former associate of his in the film, who worked with him in the production of "The Jazz Singer," says that for the first time in his life the manner singer is definitely enthusiastic about a picture.

After three years away from his first "home lot"—three years spent to the slight furtherance of his film career—Jolson is back.

The Old Place Changes

There have been some changes made since he left, however. For one thing, the studio has moved bodily to another plant. For another, Jolson's wife, Ruby Keeler, has become a star there in her own right. There is little likelihood that Jolson will be through producing "Wonder Bar," at all, until he has the company and present its release.

While they were struggling through "The Jazz Singer," Jolson offered to pay all accumulated expenses on the film if he could be relieved of his contract and assured the picture would not be released. If he had won his point then, the talkies perhaps would not have been launched so precipitously on their career. Jolson once had started a picture, but he did not complete it, because of the same mitigations.

Al's Enthusiastic

"I never did want to make pictures," he said recently. "Except, perhaps, this one. I think we've got something here. I'll be an entertainer, not an actor, I like that."

And he is leaving the acting, and some of the singing, in a large cast of other stars—including the warbling Dick Powell.

It may be news to the fans that Yessie Rich is about to make her cinema debut. Not the Irene known to the screen these many years, but in Irene Rich who is 5 months old, and namesake of the actress. She has a role with Katharine Hepburn in "Trigger."

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "Blood Money." Criminals and the underworld with its gangsters, squealers and big shots, is offered the movie public again in this melodramatic story that marks the return of George Bancroft to the screen. In this one, Mr. Bancroft is one of the kings of the shady racketeers, but he turns against the whole business when Frances Dee comes along and persuades him to turn against the friends who made him in order to gratify and experiment with a criminality complex. Judith Anderson, Blossom Seeley and Chick Chandler are to be seen in featured parts.

Orpheum: "Topaze" and "Supernatural." John Barrymore comes through with an amazing characterization in the first feature, and although the show is pretty ancient, those who missed it when it first came out will discover the play agreeable and arresting screen drama. Myrna Loy is also in the cast. "Supernatural" tells about the spirit world and especially about an evil spirit that enters the body of another woman. Carole Lombard, Randolph Scott, Vivienne Osborne and H. B. Warner are in the cast. Broadway: Closed until Friday.

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same. Orpheum: "Hello, Sister" and "Broadway." James Dunn, supported by Boots Mallory, Zasu Pitts, and a New York city locale, smiles his way through a multitude of troubles in this talkie that concerns two people in love, with the usual number of misunderstandings. "Broadway" is glorified through the eyes of a columnist in the second offering, and Primo Carnera, Ruth Etting, the famous Hollywood Club, Lupa Veloz, Isham Jones and orchestra, and numerous other stars of radio and screen are to be seen in the play. Broadway: Closed until Friday.

Eat Snakes and Lizards

The Australian and African bushmen think nothing of eating most kinds of snakes and lizards that occur in their native countries. Large snakes, iguanas, lizards and turtles are relished by Indians living in the American tropics, while the Seminoles in Florida and many other peoples eat small alligators and crocodiles.

GOING Christmas shopping without knowing what you're going to buy is like trying to use a pay phone without a directory.

Going Christmas shopping without knowing what you're going to spend is like trying to use the phone without a nickel.

You may get through on the first—for the stores are full of pleasant surprises. But go hit or miss on spending—and either your Christmas list or your Christmas budget is bound to strike a snag.

The ad reading habit is invaluable at Christmas time. It lets you plan your list in advance. You know what you're going to give to whom. You know how much it's going to cost . . . down to the last little penny.

Reading the ads saves you many a weary footstep . . . Many a jostle and shove . . . many a disappointment. Reading the ads, you'll almost always find you can save a few dollars to buy a nicer gift for someone very special or to bank away for next Christmas.

And remember this! Advertised merchandise is always better merchandise. At Christmas time. And all the year 'round.

COLLARS TAKE NEW SHAPES FOR COATS

As yet No Is Popular With Fashion Designers.

Collars are only one detail of this season's fur coats that have taken new shapes, as shown in exhibits for national fur week.

The anser collar and tie is used on both dress and sports coats, on hand-some-fitted fur, and on sweater coats. Some models, such as a three-quarter-length kidskin, have a straight piece around the neck, with adjustable-length anser which can be looped or thrown over the shoulder. This three-quarter-length coat is good to wear over wool frocks.

The high, chin-clip collar, fastening far to the side, gives a broad-shouldered effect. The long stole collar has returned to lead smartness.

The butterfly collar, which is of fur far, crosses under the chin, and widens toward the end, where it is buttoned or snapped or laid over each shoulder in winged effect. Sailor collars—seen on marine wraps or sports coats of kid—also are popular, as are the flat roll collars.

Silver fox, however, often is preferred to many of the little collars.

A wide variety also is seen in sleeves for fur coats.

The leg-o-mutton sleeve has all the fullness concentrated at the top of the shoulder. The upper arm fullness, particularly in fine fur, is achieved by tucks let in at the sides of the armhole. Others are loose and easy above the elbow, and gathered into a deep, tight cuff.

WANT TO CROCHET?

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If you are interested in the art of crocheting the blouse and hat here pictured should prove an incentive to hurry and get busy. The smart little crocheted blouse of mercerized cotton crocheted will brighten up any tailored tweed suit. The colors are bright and bold. It is quite a patriotic affair in that the lacy open-stitch part of the blouse is crocheted in red and blue while the knitted band on the bottom and the sleeves is white. The hat is crocheted of black cotton string. The pert little hat is fashioned on the lines of the miner's hat. The widening of the visorlike head band, with the flange given to the crown, makes it very becoming. A big shiny button worked into the crocheted cabochon at the front is its only decoration. It is easy to make and is very effective in knitting crocheted cotton.

STYLE NOTES

Dark colors are important. Brown furs are the wanted kind. Diadem and coronet hair ornaments are worn. Gold-flecked satin is popular for frocks and blouses. Black stain oxfords are smart for formal afternoon hours. Gilt-stitched felt hats are among the newer millinery showings. Big pillow muffs are carried.

Bright Sashes on Black Gowns Is Dramatic Note

Flaming scarlet and bright green sashes, knotted at the sides, with long ends almost reaching the floor, brilliantly accent sophisticated black dresses. With the dresses are worn stately little silver-stitched lace jackets. These dramatic ensembles are ideal for dinner or theater wear. Some are suitable for formal occasions, this matter being determined by the dress décolletage more than line or material.

A long train that looks as if it had been shirred is the distinctive touch on a long, silky white satin evening gown. Twisted black velvet flowers, knotted and bunched at the throat, form the most effective contrast imaginable.

Long-Sleeved Gowns

The long-sleeved velvet dinner gown, holding the body like a sheath with a front neckline which closes about the throat and a back slashed open in a modified V, is one of the hits of the season.

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

From Our Paris Artist's Sketch Book

(Copyright, 1933, by Fairchild)

The train line given by a bright coral red coat banded in skunk and worn over a black gown. Severely smart, a long black velvet coat, plain and smoothly fitting at front, with a flexible silver band holding it at the neckline. Cherry red and maroon combined for a cape that suggested Victorian days, over a slender, but flowing gown.

She'll Be Ticked to Pieces With Feathers

New York—A feather capelet or boa is just the thing to give the gay young thing who dances until dawn. She'd love it. It's an ideal gift for several reasons. First, because they are being worn, second because sizes don't matter, and third, it isn't necessary to match the dress. Better not to, in fact.

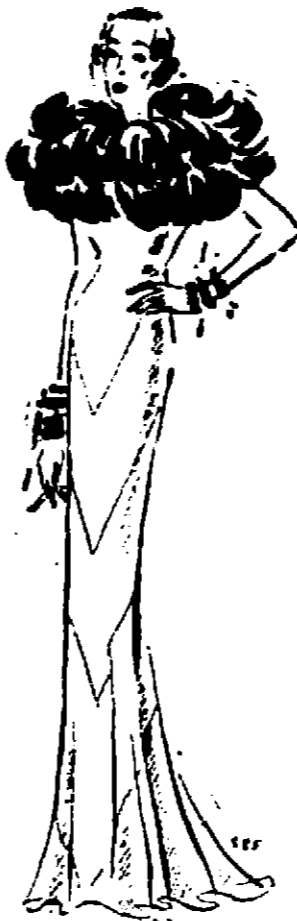

The accompanying sketch was made at a gala in Paris recently, and is shown just to prove that one side of the world does know what the other side of the world is wearing.

Feather capes, boas, muffs and bags are most attractive. If one does not overdo them and wear them all at once. Coq seems to have the lead over ostrich, but perhaps that's just an impression. These little capes, worn over the evening gown, are not to be checked in the coat room but worn dancing or dining. Don't forget that it is momentarily smart to be bundled up to the chin, as uncomfortable as it sounds, since there is ventilation from the bare waistback.

If you do not like the feather capelet, perhaps you will like the feather muff, or bag, or bag-muff, an attractive addition to a frock which is the better for a bit of fluff.

And speaking of gifts, and who isn't, please do not overlook the opportunity to give hair ornaments, anything from sparkling little pins to regal looking tiaras. If you are smart you won't be caught out at night with nothing but your hair as a head covering. If you don't like an evening hat, and of course there are times when you won't wear something ornamental in that once despised "crown of glory".

THE FEATHERED CAPE

(Copyright, 1933, by Fairchild)

A costume frock typical of formal type worn for gala events is in gray chiffon slightly trailing at back and molded to the figure, by angular seaming. Around the neck a ruche of brown coque feathers contributes a thoroughly dashing quality.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Agnes has a toque of plaid taffeta which reminds one a little of the bandanna toques worn by West Indian negroes. The material is draped to cover the entire head, with a tiny bow low at the neck at back, while on the forehead just a round medallion of the taffeta.

Mexico Spices the Resort Wardrobe

The Mexican influence is gaining ground, for aside from the use of bright colors, crown silhouettes and millinery trimmings give much indication that they have been directly inspired by the art and customs of old Mexico. Crowns frequently show the re-

The sleeve has lowered its fulness in this model and is topped by epaulet sections that effect shoulder width. Velvet or crepe is suggested for this style, which is excellent as an all day frock, or one for afternoon informal occasions.

Designed in five sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 38 will require 4 1/3 yards of 39 inch material. To finish with bias binding as in the large view, will require 5 yards 1 1/2 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge is 1 2/3 yard.

Insects Destroy Printed Matter There are two insects which characteristically destroy printed matter—the silverfish and the book worm. However, cockroaches damage the cloth and leather bindings of books, the paste used on the cloth covers and in the bindings being very attractive to them.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE Cookies As Gifts

A box of Christmas cookies, wrapped with holiday papers and seals makes a most appropriate gift for a child or a grownup friend. If the cookies are packed as soon as made and quantities of waxed paper used to fill the box and the box then securely wrapped and tied, the cookies will keep fresh for at least two weeks so that they can be sent distances to those away from home. A metal box if available is suggested to use for holding Christmas sweets when they are to be sent out of town, as then there is less chance of air getting into the products which causes them to become stale. When packing confections it is best to pack them very tightly. Use waxed papers between layers of foods.

Accused Slayers Held Secretly In Oklahoma

"Strong Talk" Causes Authorities to Put Girl and Boy in Unknown Stronghold Following Killing of Three in Store Holdup.

Tulosa, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—A 21-year-old cotton picker and his girl friend, seized by a single captor after the killing of three persons in a county store hold-up, were held secretly today.

"The boy admitted it," said Sheriff C. C. Jones upon his return here early today, some hours after the couple, Fred Overstreet and 18-year-old Cleo Owens, had been taken quietly from the jail by the sheriff and other officers.

The sheriff said the two "are not held here now" and refused to tell where they were taken, other than that it was a "safe place."

"There is no mob trouble," he added. "We took them out and found the pistol."

Attorney Pushes Plan To Try San Jose Youth

San Jose, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—With a promise of a pardon for the defendant from Governor James Rolph, Jr., authorities here today pushed plans to prosecute Anthony Cataldi, 18, on a charge of violating the State Lynching Law for participation in the mob which hung the kidnaper-slayer of Brooke Hart.

Cataldi was arrested on information furnished by A. L. Wirin and Ellis O. Jones, representatives of the civil liberties union which demanded prosecution of the mob leaders.

Believe Flier Lost.
Paris, Dec. 13 (AP)—Vicomte Charles de Mannville, who mysteriously disappeared last night on a flight from London to Paris, was feared lost today after a search of the English Channel failed to reveal any trace of him or his plane. The amateur flier's father, the Comte de Mannville, formerly was French minister to Roumania.

Recover 3 Bodies In Auto Submerged In Cuyahoga River

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 13 (AP)—The bodies of Frank M. Samons, 35, a lake captain, his wife, Gertrude, 37, and John Murphy, chief engineer of the tugboat, were found today in a car submerged in the Cuyahoga river.

The Samons automobile, in which the three are believed to have driven off a dock last Monday night, was located in 17 feet of water and was brought to the surface with the aid of a derrick.

Search of the river was begun this morning after a lead in the Samons home reported that the couple had not returned to their two small children, Robert, 4, and Frank, Jr., 3, after leaving home Monday afternoon.

Tunnel Thieves Loot Detroit Post Office of $200,000 Mail Sacks

Detroit, Dec. 13 (AP)—A police report today said it had been discovered that the Alfred street post office had been tunneled into and a considerable number of mail sacks taken, with contents first estimated to be worth upward from $200,000.

Post office authorities said the branch office had been "cleaned out." As the investigation got underway, police said the vault had been entered from beneath through a tunnel, but where the tunnel started from they did not yet know.

The Alfred street post office is one of the principal branches in the near downtown district. Estimates of the loot were based largely on guesswork, postal authorities said.

Gunmen Visit Bank Today, Take $20,000

Thieves, Posing as Expressmen, Gain Entrance to Massachusetts Bank and Take Cash From Vault—Inmate Employees.

Turners Falls, Mass., Dec. 13 (AP)—Two men bound three men with wire in the Crocker National Bank and escaped with cash estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 after forcing one employee to open a vault early today.

Andrew Sauter, janitor of the bank, was cleaning up at 8 a. m. when two men came to the door with a package. Sauter believed it to be an express package and he opened the door. The men asked him to sign for the package and as he was about to do so they drew a revolver, forced him into the back of the bank and bound him with wire.

Ten minutes later, Earl Squires, a teller, arrived and was made prisoner. Thomas Frawley, paymaster for the Keith Paper Mill, then arrived to get the payroll. He, too, was made a captive. Frawley was bound with wire and then Squires was forced to open the bank vault under threat of death. After the vault had been cleared he was bound with wire. The bandits then left, getting into an automobile which had been stationed outside the bank with two men seated in it.

Philip Jacobus and Thomas Tippet, two bank employees, arrived but a few minutes later and they discovered the three men lying on the floor. While Jacobus released them, Tippet ran across the street to the telephone company office and sent out an alarm.

Strickrott To Tell Kiwanis Of Power

A. G. STRICKROTT
A. G. Strickrott, of the New York Power and Light Corporation, Albany, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club on December 14 and will have for his subject the story of how 1,800 men overcame the almost insuperable difficulties to build one of the world's greatest power lines, extending from Albany to New York city and connecting the two largest power producing systems in the world.

The problems and romance found in the completion of such a project is visualized in Mr. Strickrott's motion picture talk, entitled "The Growing Pains of a Power Line." Beginning with the photographing of the countryside over this 145-mile route from a plane flying at an altitude of two and one-half miles, the picture story carries through the ground survey, purchase of land, delivery of material, erection of towers, stringing of wire and finally the completed project, including the world's largest capacity switching and transformer station.

Many spectacular scenes with active and human interest are furnished with the moving over mountains and swamps of a heavy tractor and equipment, photographed by the speaker while traveling with the crews of the right of way. These scenes serve to glorify the spirit and show the determination of a construction organization set on completing its task against the elements and difficulties of terrain.

Mr. Strickrott's talk will be helpful as well as entertaining. Each Kiwanian is asked to bring a guest.

Middletown High School Athlete Dies

Irving B. Fater, 18, Middletown High School junior and left end on the football team, died at 10:20 Monday night in Middletown Sanitarium soon after an operation for the removal of a kidney.

In the sanitarium corridors were gathered scores of high school friends who answered an emergency call, broadcast from the State and Paramount Theatres Monday night, seeking a donor for a blood transfusion that could not be used.

Fater's illness was said to have been recurrent for several years. Coach Hughes refused permission for the diminutive player (he weighed only 135) to participate in the Port Jervis game although Fater sat, dressed for action, on the bench. He was taken to the sanitarium Saturday. Monday his condition became critical.

News of his death, announced by principal William A. Wilson in morning assembly at the high school, shocked students although most of them already had heard the news. The sanitarium telephone was in virtually incessant use for two hours Monday night as scores of additional volunteer donors made known telephone numbers in case of an extra emergency.

The other appointments were: Paul Windels, corporation counsel; Paul Blanchard, commissioner of accounts; Irving Ben Cooper, special counsel to the commissioner of accounts; Windels, also a close campaign adviser to LaGuardia, is associate counsel to the Port of New York Authority. He is a graduate of Harvard University, lives in Brooklyn and has law offices on lower Broadway.

They rested here today after an 1100-mile flight yesterday from Manaus, Brazil.

The colonel was still smiling but appeared to be somewhat tired.

Society Notes

Lowell Club
The Lowell Club held its Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Van Wageningen on Elmendorf street Tuesday afternoon. After the singing of Christmas carols, several letters from honorary members, expressing sincere regret that they could not be present, and extending Christmas greetings, were read. Christmas music was played by Mrs. Van Buren and Mrs. Wonderly and Mrs. Chidester played as a piano duet, Mozart's famous "Minuet" and "Romance" by Tchaikovsky. Then came some of the cleverest and merriest games possible. An auction of gifts with beans acquired in a contest, as the coin of the Christmas realm, was one of them. A unique balloon contest was another. The "Christmas Party" closed with the singing of refreshments and the singing of "Silent Night" by all present. The Lowell Club is sending its usual Christmas gifts to the Tuberculous Hospital. The first 1934 meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Snyder on January 2.

Breaking a Mirror
Don't be alarmed if you break a mirror and some one says that you'll have seven years' bad luck, because, like most superstitions, it is all nonsense and merely the end of witchcraft that was practiced during the Middle Ages. In those days if some one wanted to do harm to some one else he would contrive to break a mirror into which the second person had lately peered. It was said that if the mirror could be broken before the image of the victim had "evaporated" seven years' bad luck would be bound to follow the smashing of the glass. Actually, of course, the whole idea is ridiculous, just as ridiculous as thinking that the spilling of salt will bring bad luck. That particular superstition is the result of the very ancient idea that to spill salt at a man's table after one has dined with him is to insult him and challenge him to battle.

Raleigh and a Commo
The will of Diego, a son of Christopher Columbus, recently discovered in Spain, was first thought to cast doubt upon the generally accepted story that Sir Walter Raleigh first introduced smoking into Europe, says Tobacco Topics Magazine. This will, dated May 2, 1523, more than 60 years before Raleigh smoked his first pipe of tobacco, disposed of a sum of money to a certain Antonio described apparently as "tobacco merchant of Lisbon." Closer examination of this document causes scholars to believe that the clause reads "Antonio Tobacco, merchant of Lisbon." The name of Raleigh as patron saint of tobacco therefore seems to rest on the plating of a commo.

Opium Poppies
Opium is obtained from the milky juice of the young capsules of the poppy grown in China, India and Persia. The climate must be tropical or subtropical, there must not be an excessive rainfall, and the industry can be carried on successfully only where labor and land are sufficiently cheap and abundant. The cultivation of opium poppies for the production of opium is not possible in this country, even if it were permitted by law. It is said that every species of poppy is capable of yielding opium to a greater or lesser extent.

Mayor Carey's Veto Message to Council

and if the same be reported favorably, the report shall contain an estimate of the total expenditure and of such estimate.

That resolution, among other things, purports to give to the Civil Works Administration the sole and exclusive use of City Streets and Avenues. The Legislature of the State of New York, under Chapter 11 of the Laws of 1933, as amended by Chapter 611 of the Laws of 1934, gave to the Board of Public Works the care and control of the Streets and Avenues of the City, as further defined in Title XIII, Sections 144 to 152, inclusive, of the Charter of the City of Kingston.

Apparently it is the intent of the resolution to legislate out of office, even though for the time being, the Board of Public Works, the Superintendent of Public Works, and the City Engineer, and to disrobe them of all constituted power, control and supervision. Thus, it remains that the Common Council cannot by the resolution, before me for consideration, disrobe the Civil Works Administration of any other person, authority or governing body control of our streets and avenues. Such result must be accomplished by an Act of the State Legislature or enactment of Local Law.

That resolution gives to the Civil Works Administration the use of "Such other property as may be necessary in the execution of their work." One can only surmise what this part of the resolution intends to convey and what is included in the category of "Such Other Property." Property of the Board of Education, Board of Public Works, Fire Department, Water Department, or others, is not controlled by the Common Council. Without doubt, every department is willing to cooperate and they might be appealed to by the Civil Works Administration for a helping hand.

For the Board of Public Works, I can say that, at the request of the Civil Works Administration, I have instructed City Engineer Hallinan to turn over all his completed and uncompleted records and to furnish such assistance as I have instructed Superintendent of Public Works Van Keuren to give tools and materials asked for and to cooperate in every respect.

I have very carefully studied the communication of the Civil Works Administration, which was attached to and made a part of the resolution, and I find it was the intent and purpose thereof that the Common Council was obliging itself and the Incoming Common Council to spend and raise approximately the sum of $218,228.26 for supplies, materials, tools, equipment, supervision, truck hire, miscellaneous, engineer's services, legal expense and real estate, subdivided as follows:

Repairing streets	3,450.00
Cleaning catch basins	550.00
Operating quarry	1,250.00
Rounding street corners	1,155.00
Widening Foxhall avenue	3,000.00
Retaining Wall, School No. 5	2,488.00
Wood census	294.00
Additional lighting in schools	4,154.62
Painting school buildings	3,022.00
Fire stations and signal system	3,045.64
Repairing Armory	35,137.00
Extensions to sewers	148,134.00

No reimbursement would be made by the Federal Civil Works Administration on any of the aforementioned items, as reimbursement is made for labor only.

Under Project No. 15 of the local program, the last item in the list, the extension of existing sewers is to be undertaken. I find a proposed expenditure therein to be made involving the sum of $12,000, further subdivided as follows: $5,000 for engineering, $3,000 for legal expense and $4,000 for real estate. I have been given to understand that Sanborn & Bogart, an outside firm of engineers, have been or are about to be engaged as engineers on the sewer project. I do not hesitate in the least to protest the payment of $5,000 to outside engineers when there are supposed to be competent and licensed civil engineers in the City of Kingston who are out of employment and seeking appointments to City positions. If the purchase of real estate is involved in the sewer project, it is illegal and not within the power and jurisdiction of the Civil Administration to condemn or purchase property or rights of ways for the City.

Therefore, not wishing to involve the Common Council in illegal proceedings, and to the end that nothing may happen to wrongly involve the Local Civil Works Administration and that there may be no illegal bonds, certificates of indebtedness or other obligations on the part of the City of Kingston issued or contemplated to be issued while I am Mayor or left to be inherited by future administrations, and further, believing the resolution to be illegal, null and void and of no effect, I am compelled, with reluctance, to vote the resolution and the requests therein contained.

Respectfully submitted,

EUGENE B. CAREY,

Mayor.

Part Baseball Tonight.
There will be a part baseball game between the Clinton Avenue M. E. team and the Poughkeepsie Congregationalists at the latter's court tonight. The Methodists will leave their church at 8 o'clock. There will be a game for all.

Chinese and China.
It is not possible to state precisely whence or at what date the Chinese entered China. There seems little reason to doubt that they came from the west of Asia and early settled in the northwest of China, where they had already attained to a respectable degree of civilization before 2200 B. C. and were even then a considerable nation.

JERRY HAS OTHER THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

REDDY FOX went off to the Old Pasture to put on his thinking cap. Jerry Muskrat just stopped thinking about that house Reddy talked of building. It could be built without mud, and how were they to get mud where no mud was? They couldn't, so that was all there was about it. It had been great fun to plan that house for Reddy Fox. He had interested him greatly and he would dearly love to help build it. But it couldn't be done, and because he had other things to think of. "I've had rest enough," thought Jerry the very night he decided that

"Well, I Never!" Exclaimed Reddy.

Reddy's house could be no more than a dream. "It is time for me to begin to think about getting some food laid away for winter. If Reddy Fox ever has a house like mine he will have to build it without any help from me. I've wasted all the time on it I am going to. It is queer how interested in houses Reddy has become. I never knew him to be before. And, now I think of it, he has been wonderfully pleasant. He certainly can be nice when he wants to be. He hasn't once tried to catch me. I don't believe that such a thought had even entered his head."

Wouldn't Reddy have smiled if he could have known what Jerry was thinking? You know and I know that

LOVE AT HOME

By ANNE CAMPBELL

LOVE is no mocking bird that sings a thousand miles away. But a brown wren that blithely brings a song to the today.

He perches in my sunny yard. And utters a song to me. Of common joy, a task that's hard. And home's tranquility.

He has no song of a far land. That lures my heart to roam. He sings a song I understand. A simple song of home!

Farm and Home Bureaus Banquet

was next introduced and spoke briefly, saying that it was a real treat, after an absence of four years, to once more be present at a Farm Bureau banquet. He gave the Ulster county people a cordial invitation to visit him when he was in Poughkeepsie. Mr. Wiggin also paved the way for the next speaker, his friend, John G. Curtis of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Curtis is a former Farm Bureau manager, having for 17 years been engaged in that capacity in Westchester county. He is now field man for the Regional Credit Corporation and an appraiser for the Land Bank. He made good his introduction as a genial humorist during the course of his short talk. He paid particular compliment to the executive committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau as being the only one in the state that was able to send its agent "on a junketing tour of European countries in company with a bunch of Rotarians."

Mr. Curtis brought a word of good cheer to his hearers in these days of depression, when he said that "there is one thing that the farmer doesn't have to worry about, in which he is an exception to most of the population—he doesn't have to worry about being kidnapped." In more serious vein Mr. Curtis said that farmers must raise pretty close to maximum crops today, if farming is to be successful. He said that in earlier days, when the land contained more of its natural fertility, when there was not so much need of soil replenishment and when labor costs were not so high nor competition so keen, the question of fertilizer was not so important. Today, said Mr. Curtis, profits in farming depend upon raising crops that show a production ranging from average to maximum and for this one of the most important elements with which the soil must be supplied is nitrogen.

4-H Club Features.
Mr. Curtis was followed by a 4-H Club feature which proved to be one of the best numbers on what was really an "all star" program. It consisted of some clever balancing work and acrobatic dancing by Roger Keough and a very pleasing and well executed dance by Harold Smith and Francis Short. Their work was received with long-continued applause, every bit of which was earned.

Another 4-H Club feature was a talk by Miss Anna Du Bois, who has just returned from the National 4-H Club Congress held at Chicago. Miss Du Bois told of her experience during the past five years as a 4-H Club worker. She has taken up about every project on the 4-H program and said that her favorite one was room improvement. During her work she has three times been a delegate to meetings outside Ulster county, including trips to Syracuse and Cornell besides her recent trip to Chicago. She has won $36.19 4-H Club awards as a result of her project work.

A duet by two rollicking sailor boys, William T. Hookey and Ralph Gurney of Lake Katrine, was exceptionally good. They sang "Larboard Watch" and when the audience insisted on their return, after they had disappeared once and bowed their appreciation of the applause, repeated a verse of the song as an encore, claiming that "that was all they knew."

Tribute To Judge Clearwater.
Referring to the death the past year of Judge A. T. Clearwater, first president and for 20 years an honorary president of the Farm Bureau, Mr. Davis introduced Dr. Boeve of the First Dutch Church, Judge Clearwater's pastor, to speak a few words of appreciation.

Dr. Boeve in introducing his remarks told of his early days as a farm boy in Iowa, his parents having been pioneer farmers, when temperatures of 40 below zero, blizzards, crop destroying winds and visitations of hog cholera were part of the regular program. In comparison he viewed Ulster county farmers as sitting on top of the world. Dr. Boeve then proceeded to pay tribute to the memory of Judge Clearwater, saying that it was generally conceded that in his death Ulster county lost its most distinguished citizen. He said that the Judge had been endowed by nature with an alert and brilliant mind, a strong will and an exuberant spirit that made him "good company" in any gathering. He had chosen for his life profession one that conducted to the development of his gifts and talents and qualities of mind.

Dr. Boeve referred to Judge Clearwater's intense interest in the city and county that was his home, adding that the state also claimed him as one of its outstanding citizens. His interests were varied and included as a member of the constitutional convention an interest in the fundamental law of his state business activities, the welfare of the farmer. In fact local, state and national problems of wide divergence. He numbered many of the great, such in state and nation, as his friends. As president of the Ulster County Historical Society he took a deep interest in local history and was keenly alive to the desirability of perpetuating the traditions in which his city and county was so rich and there were many reminders throughout the county of the work he had done in this field during his life. Including tablets, monuments, memorial windows and the like. The speaker said that as a man the Judge was genial, hospitable, affable and appreciative. "Especially well informed, a master of the English language, his English and rhetoric were almost perfect," said Dr. Boeve, adding that "as an advocate he was widely sought and as a foe he was dreaded." In closing the speaker told of the Judge's faithfulness to the tenets and traditions of the Dutch church, saying, "he will be missed and will continue to be missed for decades to come."

Prizes Won During Year.

Mrs. H. M. Eppen, chairman of the Home Bureau, announced the prizes won during the year. The prize for the largest number of new members and largest increase in membership was won by the Modena Home Bureau. Miss Emma Palmer receiving the blue ribbon on behalf of the Modena unit. The silver cup for winning the dramatic contest this year was awarded to the Lake Katrine Grange. It must be won three times to become the permanent property of a Grange. The public speaking contest this year was won by Mrs. H. A. Lewis, at the Federation meeting at Syracuse.

Other Ulster county winners the past year were: Third prize in the landscaping contest won by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jansen; C. L. F. dairy scholarship at Cornell won by Franklin Kelder; second prize in the state health contest won by Carrie May Van Wyck and third prize won by John Burns. Eleven Ulster county boys have also been invited to attend the New York poultry show January 9 to 13. Supervisor Pratt Boice made the announcement of prizes and honors won by 4-H Club members and also spoke briefly in commendation of the work done by the 4-H Clubs.

The one-act play, "Day by Day," by members of the Lake Katrine Grange, which won the county dramatic contest, proved to be a pleasing comedy sketch. The parts were well taken and the actors and actresses were given hearty applause for their excellent performance.

The program was brought to a close with a showing of pictures of the Chicago Exposition of Progress. The pictures, taken by a representative of the New York Central railroad during the trip made by Grange members to the exposition, were clear and interesting. They were shown by Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau.

Cat of African Descent.
The domestic cat is not descended from the wild cat, but from a remote African ancestor.

Do YOU Know—

That slavery was first introduced in America in 1619; when a Dutch slave ship sold nineteen negroes to the Virginia planters along the James River. In 1700 a slave could be bought in Africa for 12 pounds of rum and sold in the colonies for 35 pounds.
